Key Elements of the product	ZKB Reverse Convertible Defensive combine a fixed income security with the sale of an out of the money put option. With an investment in ZKB Reverse Convertible Defensive the investor can take advantage of the current implied volatility of the Underlying. An above-average return will be reached if the Underlying trades sideways or slightly higher or even lower than at Initial Fixing Date. If one or more of the Underlyings trade below the Cap Level at Final Fixing Date, the investor receives a physical delivery of a predefined number of the worst performing Underlying (between Initial Fixing Date and Final Fixing Date) according to Redemption Method. Because of the Cap Level below 100%, the cost price of the Underlying is lower in case of physical delivery. As a result, the loss in case of physical delivery of the Underlying is lower than in case of a direct investment. If all Underlyings trade at or above the Cap Level at Final Fixing Date, Redemption will be 100 % of the Denomination in cash. The guaranteed Coupon will be paid out in any case at the Coupon Payment Date(s), independent of the performance of the Underlyings.
Taxes	The product is considered as transparent and Non-IUP (Intérêt Unique Prédominant). The Coupon payments of 5.4000% p.a. are divided in an option premium payment of 4.2600% p.a. and an interest payment of 1.1400% p.a. The option premium part qualifies as capital gain and is not subject to Swiss income tax for private investors with Swiss tax domicile. The interest part is subject to Swiss income tax at the time of payment. The product is not subject to Swiss withholding tax. The Federal securities transfer stamp tax is levied on secondary market transactions of this product. The Federal securities transfer stamp tax will be levied on the basis of the Cap level in the case of physical delivery of the Underlyings at maturity. This product may be subject to additional withholding taxes or duties, such as related to FATCA, Sect. 871(m) U.S. Tax Code or foreign financial transaction taxes. If at maturity all Underlyings trade higher or equal to the Cap Level, the performance of the ZKB Reverse Convertible Defensive will be equal to the Coupon paid out during the lifetime (according to Coupon Payment Date(s)) of 9.45%. If at maturity one or more Underlyings trade below the Cap Level, the investor will receive a physical delivery of a predefined number of Underlyings per Structured Product of the worst performing Underlying takes place. Therefore, the investor may suffer a partial or total loss. The cost price of the delivered Underlyings is at 80% of the Initial Fixing Value. As a result, the negative performance of the Structured Product is lower than the negative performance of the worst performing Underlying.

The table above is valid at maturity only and is by no means meant as a price indication for this Structured Product throughout its lifetime. The price of this Structured Product depends on additional risk factors between the Initial Fixing Date and the Final Fixing Date. The price quoted on the secondary market can therefore deviate substantially from the above table. It was assumed, that Nestlé rs was the worst performing Underlying. This selection is just a representative example of the possible alternatives.

3. Material Risks for Investors

Issuer Risk	Obligations under this structured product constitute direct, unconditional and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and rank pari passu with other direct, unconditional and unsecured obligations of the Issuer. The value of the structured product not only depends on the performance of the Underlying and other developments in the financial markets, but also on the solvency of the Issuer, which may change during the term of this structured product.
Specific Product Risks	Structured products are complex financial instruments, which entail considerable risks and, accordingly, are only suitable for investors who have the requisite knowledge and experience and understand thoroughly the risks connected with an investment in these structured products and are capable of bearing the economic risks. The loss potential of an investment in ZKB Reverse Convertible Defensive is, in case of delivery of an Underlying share at maturity, limited to the difference between the purchase price of the ZKB Reverse Convertible Defensive and the value of the Underlying shares at maturity. The value of the worst performing Underlying share can then be lower than the Cap Level. The product is denominated in CHF. The investor bears the risk between the CHF and his reference currency.

Specific modification rules for certain types of Underlyings stated in the base prospectus shall prevail. If the Issuer determines, for whatever reason, that an adequate modification is not possible, the Issuer has the right to redeem the products early.
