If at maturity the Knock-in Level has never been touched, the performance of the ZKB Barrier Discount Certificate is at 10.13%, see column "Knock-in Level untouched". If at maturity the Knock-in Level has been touched, see column "Knock-in Level touched", the performance of the ZKB Barrier Discount Certificate equals the lower value of the Underlying divided by the lower purchase price - a result from the discount. Therefore, the investor may suffer a partial or total loss. Due to the discount, the ZKB Barrier Discount Certificate decreases in value at a slower pace than the Underlying.

The table above is valid at maturity only and is by no means meant as a price indication for this structured product throughout its lifetime. The price of this structured product depends on additional risk factors between Initial Fixing and Final Fixing. The price quoted on the secondary market can therefore deviate substantially from the above table.

3. Material Risks for Investors

Credit Risk Relating to Issuer

Obligations under these structured products constitute direct, unconditional and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and rank pari passu with other direct, unconditional and unsecured obligations of the Issuer. The value of the structured product does not only depend on the performance of the Underlying and other developments in the financial markets, but also on the solvency of the Issuer, which may change during the term of this structured product.

Specific Product Risks

Structured products are complex financial instruments, which entail considerable risks and, accordingly, are only suitable for investors who have the requisite knowledge and experience and understand thoroughly the risks connected with an investment in these structured products and are capable of bearing the economic risks. The loss potential of an investment in ZKB Barrier Discount Certificates is limited to the difference between the purchase price of the structured product and the closing price of the Underlying at maturity. The value of the Underlying can then be lower than the Cap Level. The product is denominated in CHF. If the investor's reference currency differs from the CHF, the investor bears the risk between the CHF and his reference currency.

4. Additional Terms

Modifications

If an extraordinary event as described in the base prospectus occurs in relation to the Underlying/a component of the Underlying or if any other extraordinary event occurs, which makes it impossible or particularly cumbersome for the Issuer, to fulfill its obligations under the products or to calculate the value of the products, the Issuer shall at its own discretion take all the necessary actions and, if necessary may modify the terms and conditions of these products at its own discretion in such way, that the economic value of the products after occurrence of the extraordinary event corresponds, to the extent possible, to the economic value of the products prior to the occurrence of the extraordinary event. Specific modification rules for certain types of Underlyings stated in the base prospectus shall prevail. If the Issuer determines, for whatever reason, that an adequate modification is not possible, the Issuer has the right to redeem the products early.

Market Disruptions

Compare specific provisions in the base prospectus.

Prudential Supervision
